Shalom. In today's Gospel the peace (shalom) that Jesus gives to the disciples has a much richer meaning than we might first think. This "shalom" is not simply a good wish for a nice evening; it is, rather, a peace that this world cannot offer. It is a peace that comes from a loving relationship with God, a peace of body, of mind and of spirit. Jesus is asking the disciples to be an unending witness to God's love. They (and we) must be for others what Jesus has been for them. In this way we, and the world, will come to see who Jesus is.

A thought and prayer for the many young boys and girls receiving/having received First Holy Communion around this time. A mother once told me that her little boy returned to his seat, having received his First Holy communion and after kneeling for a while, no doubt as his teacher had told him he should, he sat up and whispered to his mother "I'm not as full as I thought I'd be". That the way Jesus comes into our lives, to fill yes and to leave room – always – for more. He is such a gentle and constant presence.
